April Palm Oil Production Update

Dekel Agri-Vision Plc (AIM: DKL), the West African agriculture company focused on building a portfolio of sustainable and diversified projects, is pleased to provide an April 2024 monthly production update for its Ayenouan palm oil project in Côte d'Ivoire (‘Palm Oil Operation’).

Key Highlights

- The Palm Oil Operation had a solid month albeit CPO production was 27.1% lower than the record April 2023 results. This is due to the high season in 2024 appearing to return to a more typical peak cycle in March 2024 compared to 2023 where the peak occurred in April. Year to date April 2024 CPO production remains 5% higher than year to date April 2023.
- Like for like April 2024 CPO sales volumes were 45.8% higher than April last year due to the sale of stock on hand following the strong Q1 2024 production period.
- CPO sales prices continued to be historically strong at €777 per tonne. International prices remain buoyant at approximately €900 per tonne and we are optimistic that as local inventory levels decrease over the coming months local prices should continue to gradually strengthen towards the international price.
- The CPO extraction rate of 22.5% in April 2024 was an excellent result being 5.1% higher than April 2023. We are seeing this trend of higher CPO extraction rates continue in May which is enhancing our gross margin percentage.

Lincoln Moore, Dekel's Executive Director, said: "YTD CPO production levels remain ahead of 2023. In addition, with CPO prices remaining relatively high and enhanced CPO extraction rates, H1 2024 is continuing to be a period of robust financial performance from the Palm Oil Operation."
